BACKGROUND

“Grow more food” is cry of the day and will retain its influence on global and local policy making in future. Sustainable development could not be achieved without sustainable food security. The developed world has well oriented their priorities in this direction, but the issue remains rarely addressed in developing world. The developing world has specific challenges and problems along with their own resources and agricultural set up. The present symposium aims to address the challenges to attain sustainable food security in developing world and technological interventions required to cope these challenges.

Objectives of the conference

Main objectives of the symposium are;

1. Prioritize the challenges and technological interventions for sustainable food security.
2. Strengthen linkages between universities, research institutes and extension services.

Focus areas of the conference

The symposium will address the following areas in the context of sustainable development in developing world.

1. Conservation of Biodiversity: Issues, Prospects & Action Oriented Strategic Framework for Academia & Policymakers
2. Water Resource Management
3. Green revolution & its after math: Are we heading towards a right direction.
4. Effects of Climate Change on Agriculture: Strategies for coordinated Efforts
5. Renewable Energy Resources for Sustainable Food Security.

A special session will be dedicated to sign MoU with foreign universities/institutions.

About Khyber Pukhtunkhwa Agricultural University Peshawar

Since its establishment in 1981, this University has been playing a vital role in imparting Agricultural Education and conducting basic and applied agricultural research throughout the Province, and disseminating the results of agricultural research among the farmers and general public through its outreach/public service activities. Being one of the leading institutions in the country, the University has been enjoying the prestige of providing high quality agricultural education and research to its students. The university is going to organize this symposium to strengthen its linkages with research institutions and universities across the world. This will enable us to make a mutual effort for sustainable food security at global level.

The symposium site

There are a very few ancient cities in the Indo-Pak. subcontinent which despite great stresses and strains have retained their old originality- Peshawar is one of them. A town set in the rugged splendour of the Khyber Pakhtunkhwa (old names was North West Frontier Province) of Pakistan, it is undoubtedly a true metropolis of the Orient. It has till today preserved its traditional flavour and retained the air of Arabian Nights without remaining indifferent to the demands of modern development.
